A Clarience Technologies Company

The VANGO gives you all the flexibility of a flatbed trailer with the weathertight advantage of a van trailer.

The Vango21 system is self-sealing and weathertight.

Featuring a seamless, high quality fabric and the ability to be changed in 90 minutes or less, our panelized tarp reduces the cost and duration of maintenance.

While skylights, double uplift support bows, 90" and 100" systems come standard, we can customize your Vango tarp to any height.

With its rail bolted to the trailer's rubrail, the Vango21 can easily move to any position and does not affect the loading space.

The Vango21 rollup tail is "set" on top of the system, completely out of the way when it's time for loading.

Vango21's front-locking system is conveniently located at the front of the bulkhead, so operators can lock the system without climbing on the trailer.

VANGO REAR POST NEW & IMPROVED

- Long handle allows operators to couple the tensioning post to the rear bow without getting onto the trailer deck.
- Everything can be done from the rear of the trailer, no need to reach under and inside the tarp to connect anything.
- The posts use ratcheting buckles to tension the system.
- Gas springs inside the post provide constant tension.
 - » Only 4 steps required per side to achieve constant tension
 - » Identified target zones on the post ensure calibration to the same tension every time
 - » Enables uniform tension on both sides and self-compensates for stretching and shrinkage
